PARIS REPORTS GERMAN CHECK ON THE NORTH WING OF ALLIES

DECISIVE BATTLE ON AT AUSTRIAN BORDER; 3,000,000 ENGAGED

Both St. Petersburg and Vienna Admit That Result of "Greatest Fight in History of World" May Decide Fate of Nations—Russia Claims Victory Along Entire Front.

EACH SIDE DECLARES LOSSES ARE ENORMOUS.

Austrians and Germans Deny Czar's Report That They Have Been Beaten—Kaiser Said to Have Taken Command—Capture of Lemberg Is Reported Imminent.

AUSTRIAN REPORT OF RUSSIAN CAMPAIGN
VIENNA (via Rome), Sept. 1 [United Press].—In an official statement issued by the Austrian War Office to-day the battle now in progress along the Austrian-Prussian-Russian frontier is referred to as the "greatest in the history of the world."

It is stated that already there are 3,000,000 men engaged in the active fighting. Every branch of the service is represented and the fighting tide ebbs and flows like that of the seas. While the fighting has been in progress for days all along an enormous battle front, no decisive result has as yet been attained.

It is stated, however, that as a result of the concentration of the forces between Lublin, capital of the District of Lublin in Russian Poland, and Grubieszow (Grubeschow?), Russian Poland, a distance of 60 miles, the fighting there has become almost a hand-to-hand engagement, and a decisive result, so far as that section of the battleground is concerned, cannot very much longer be delayed.

The Russians are putting forth desperate efforts to break the strength of the Austrian invasion of Russian Poland, fearing the effect of a success at this point on the general situation in Poland.

In addition it is known that the present Austrian movements are in accordance with the general plan of campaign as agreed on between the Austrian and the German general staffs.

The Austrian War Office claims the Russian invasion of Austrian territory has been more than offset by the successes of Austrian arms in Russian Poland.

RUSSIAN REPORT OF THEIR CAMPAIGN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 1 (United Press).—The official account of the situation at the front, as made public by the War Office, says:

"The German defense has stiffened and we are sustaining severe losses, but the Germans are losing far more than we are, and despite the arrival of fresh troops, who have strengthened the German lines, the enemy will be unable to withstand our assault. In Galicia our army continues victorious, and the Austrians, who managed to invade Russian Poland in an attempted banking operation, have been repulsed with enormous losses and have fallen back. The Russian cavalry is covering itself with glory. In the Austrian retreat it surrounded an entire Austrian regiment and forced its surrender.

"As a result of the general engagements, which lasted from

WILLIAMS BEAT M'LOUGHLIN FOR TENNIS TITLE

Harvard Representative Defeated Champion, Straight Sets, in National Tournament.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 1.—Richard Norris Williams of Philadelphia defeated Maurice E. McLoughlin in three straight sets here to-day in the final round for the national lawn tennis title. The scores were: 6-3, 8-6, 10-8. The defeat of McLoughlin, who was conceded to be the greatest racket wielder in the world by virtue of his victories over Anthony Wilding and Norman Brookes, was the greatest surprise on the courts since tennis was first played at the Casino here twenty-seven years ago.

In the final last year McLoughlin easily won from Williams in three straight sets, and a great crowd at the Casino to-day confidently expected the Californian "Comet" would do the same again. Instead, the fashionable gallery saw the brilliant Williams play the best game of his career, while McLoughlin seemed stale and was far from his usual spectacular game.

In overcoming the champion Williams reached his highest form of tennis. Although the match was fought through three long sets, the Philadelphia championed the situation at all times. His service was superior to McLoughlin's, his returns unflinchingly sure, and the usual slump which developed in his former matches did not appear during to-day's play. Except for a rally in the last set McLoughlin did not display his usual dash. His errors were frequent, and although he pulled off his service aces occasionally his drives

3,000,000 FIGHTING IN FRANCE; ALLIES KEEPING LINE INTACT

FOUR ARMIES, 6,000,000 MEN, IN BATTLE TO-DAY IN FRANCE AND ON BORDER OF AUSTRIA

On Sept. 1, 1870, just forty-four years ago to-day, the French army under Gen. MacMahon, which had been cooped up in Sedan, gave battle to the Germans and was defeated with a loss of 17,000 men, the enemy losing 9,000. The French surrendered 88,000 men next day to the German army, estimated at 170,000.

The Austrian War Office officially declares to-day that 3,000,000 men are engaged in the struggle in Galicia between the Emperor's forces and those of the Czar.

From London comes the report that a battle is raging between the allies and the Germans along the entire line, in which 3,000,000 more are engaged, making the stupendous total of 6,000,000 men.

AUSTRIAN DEFEAT 'COLOSSAL'; NATION FACES REVOLUTION

Rome Despatch Says Tens of Thousands of Wounded Are Being Sent Home—Czar's Troops Are Victorious.

ROME, Sept. 1.—[Central News].—A despatch from Bucharest, Roumania, says fugitives from the Province of Galicia in Austria relate that the Austrian disaster at the hands of the Russians was colossal. Train after train is transporting tens of thousands of wounded.

Several regiments were entirely destroyed by the Czar's troops and these are being replaced by heavy drafts from the Landwehr and Landsturm.

It is believed that the next battle must be decisive of the whole war as far as Austria-Hungary is concerned. For her own preservation the Dual Monarchy must win, as an Austrian defeat, it is asserted, certainly will be followed by a general insurrection throughout the country.

The Austrian Government now realizes that she needs every available man to keep the Czar from wrecking the country.

Germans Captured 70,000 At Allenstein, They Claim

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (Associated Press).—A German victory at Allenstein was reported to-day to the German Embassy from Berlin by wireless via Sayville, L. I.

The despatch says:

"Official report of the victory at Allenstein shows that it was even greater than known before. Three Russian army corps were annihilated. Seventy thousand prisoners were taken, including two commanding generals, three hundred officers and the complete artillery of the Russian army."

[The above message is probably supplementary to the official German report, sent out Saturday, and denied by the Russians, in which the Berlin war office claimed German troops had defeated five army corps (200,000 men) south of Allenstein. At that time the Germans claimed to have captured 30,000 Russians. The Russians denied the report and retorted that the town of Allenstein was in their hands and that their arms were everywhere victorious.]

Czar Orders the Name of St. Petersburg Changed

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from St. Petersburg says that by imperial order the city of St. Petersburg, capital of the Russian Empire since 1712, will henceforth be known as Petrograd.

This change eliminates the Teuton construction in the name by which the chief city of Russia has been known since it was founded by Peter the Great in 1712.

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Well founded though unofficial reports are current in Paris this evening that the French have checked the German advance on the north.

BRITISH REPORT ON THE ALLIES

LONDON, Sept. 1 [Associated Press].—On the anniversary of the battle of Sedan, 3,000,000 troops are battling on the French frontier—the Germans in a headlong effort to celebrate the day with a dramatic success; the French, backed by their British allies, to avenge their defeat of forty-four years ago.

That the Germans have gained ground in their encircling movement on the French left wing is admitted by the French Foreign Office, but it also is asserted that, after a three-days' battle in this region, the Anglo-French line, although pushed back, still remains unbroken.

This is described as the "wearing down" policy on the part of the allied armies, and it is claimed that the losses of the attacking forces have been enormously greater than have those of the defenders.

The heaviest fighting appears to be taking place along a line from Peronne, in the Department of Somme, to Vervins, in the Department of Aisne, and there the flower of Emperor William's army is trying to pierce the British defense.

The only points where the French claim to have gained positive successes are in the Vosges Mountains and in Lorraine, where the Germans are said to be in retreat.

FRENCH REPORT ON THE ALLIES.

PARIS, Sept. 1 [Associated Press].—The position of the allied armies, according to the opinion of French military experts, is good. The Germans, it is said, are attempting a movement which, if it fails, will leave them in a dangerous situation with their troops exhausted.

The British army, fresh and rested, the experts say, is about to engage the extreme German right and to support the French, who have been retiring slowly for several days.

Official announcement was made this afternoon to the effect that the Minister of War has decided to call out immediately all the reservists in the country who have not been previously summoned to the colors.

A despatch to the Havas Agency from Ghent, dated Aug. 31, says that railroad and telegraphic communication between that city and Grammont, in East Flanders, twenty-one miles south of Ghent, has been re-established. This whole district has been cleared of the enemy.

PARIS, Sept. 1 [United Press].—Stubbornly holding the line from near Reims to La Fere, which guards the valleys of the Oise and Aisne Rivers, the combined French and British armies again to-day felt the whole weight of the German assault.

Four German armies—those of Grand Duke Albrecht and Gens. von Kluck, von Buelow, and von Hanneken—are
